Mass Audubon Daniel Webster Wildlife Sanctuary

Winslow Cemetery Road, Marshfield

Wednesday, June 28, 2017

11:00am-1:00pm

Norman Smith, Director of the Blue Hills Trailside Museum and Norman Smith Environmental Education Center will discuss osprey lives and band some chicks. Norman Smith is a self-taught naturalist who has worked for the Massachusetts Audubon Society since 1974. His current position is Director of Blue Hills Trailside Museum and Norman Smith Environmental Education Center in Milton, Massachusetts.

This will be an outdoor meeting and may possibly use a barn. Passage to the nesting pole will be by foot through tall grass with pools of water to walk through so knee high boots are a must along with bug spray.
